(Y/N)'s P.O.V
You where walking across the streets your (F/C) fur was dazzling in the moonlight. You decided to go into the woods but you saw a car coming towards you. A black cat jumped forward knocking you both onto the pavement he was on top of you. You blushed a lot and he got off you. He had blue eyes and a white paw. He was wearing a collar with claws and dog teeth on it "who are you?" You asked. "Well I'm scourge, aren't you meant to be with your two legs?" He teases at your (fa/c) collar you ask him about the woods when he said "I could show you around the woods" you nod and he does a sign for you to follow him. He shows you everywhere and you stumble across a patrol of cats "scourge why are you invading on thunderclan territory" a brown tabby says you where confused but the cats attacked scourge. You decide to take on the cat that was pinning scourge down. You leap forward and grab the cat by the neck. But you get thrown to the ground. You get up and hiss. The tom slashes about at you you dodge and pounce on him taking him down by the neck. You kill the tom and scourge killed the others he was panting, you look at him and he looks at you. You blush slightly he chuckles and then looks at the moon
2 hours later
You and scourge where sitting on a rock looking at the moon. You then see the sun is rising "I..I need to go" you say he nods and you walk to your house going through the cat flap. You see your mother worried "mother?" You meow she hisses at you "where have you been!" She meows roughly. You couldn't tell her about scourge or she will hurt you. She saw a wound on your shoulder "what's that?"

He meows going to look at it. You didn't notice you had it from the forest cat. You hiss to stay away. She hisses back, you then fight your mother. You spot scourge looking at you from the window. You got distracted and got pinned down by your mother, you hiss and bite her neck and push her off by your back legs. Your mother falls on the ground wounded badly. You look back at the window and scourge was gone. You heard foot steps and saw your owner. He/she saw your mother and picked you up and opened the door and threw you out. "Shoo! Shoo!" He/she growled and shut the door. You got up and walked around the city then you saw a black and white cat wearing a collar like scourges he had scars all over his face. He spots you and attacks you. You yelp and bite his paw that was pinning you down he slashes your muzzle making a deep cut. You yowl in pain and bite his neck ripping fur off him he bites your neck and throws you on the road when a car is coming you quickly roll onto the pavement and hiss at the tom he leaps at you but you dodge and make a deep cut from his chest to the tip of his tail. He yelps and falls on the ground you look at him unable to breathe you where so shocked. You saw scourge walk towards you. You started breathing heavily he looked at the cat and sat down next to the body "he was my deputy" he says looking at your blood covered paw "did you do this?" He asks you. you nod and gulp he sighs and gets another cat and says "kill her" you where shocked from his words the cat looked at you and you saw it was your sister. She stood there still "I will kill her her myself!" "Hm very clever" I mumble watching (Y/N) I stood up after she defeated her opponent. "Good work (Y/N)" I say she looks up. She looks round in panic and try's to run but I catch her and take her down playfully. She hisses playfully and then I said "your pretty strong want to join my clan?" She nods and I get a spiked collar for her and take off her own and put the other one on. "Follow me" I say and lead (Y/N) to my clan. I went to the dumpsters and jumped on one. Cats came out from the noise.

(Y/N)'s P.O.V

You saw the cats come out and give you stares. "Who is she!" One snapped scourge hissed at the cat "she is new!"

down. He hisses at you and scratches your face you yelp and step off him he stumbles up and scourge makes a call and all the cats come out "attack!" Firestar calls and the warriors start fighting your clan. You where face to face to a warrior you hissed and then saw your clan was getting killed "scourge! There's too many cats we will lose!" You call out scourge notices and then calls to retreat. You jump on the dumpster to a roof and then ran away with other cats from your clan. You here calls of victory. You look back and then to scourge.
That night.

You meowed he sat next to you "I just thought you where lonely so I want to give you company" he says you nod and look back to the city. After the battle you are blind on your left eye and have deep wounds on your back. You sigh "what are we going to do to get a new camp?" You question. Scourge looks at you "we will need to search," he says you nod.
30 minutes later
Scourge went off to rest and you stayed there. You saw the deputy (idk the name Sooo) she takes you down hissing "a kitty pet like you will never become the leader" she growls. You hiss and push her off "how do you know" you snarl getting back up you ended up fighting with the deputy. She takes you down digging her claws in your neck you yelp. Scourge comes out "what is going on" he snarls the deputy goes off you and you get up. "She attacked me" you say the clan cats start saying "yes she did attack her" "she did" scourge calls to stop there shouting. He looked at his deputy "I am disappointed in you" he sighs his Blue eyes shine in the darkness. You look at deputy and she is not getting punished. You hiss at the deputy and walk away. You walk to your den and go in, then going to your part and sleeping. You woke up from hisses you rub your eyes and look up seeing the deputy you hiss and get up. Your P.O.V
You looked at scourge who has the deputy pinned to the wall "yes" you said "please stop hurting her!" You called to him. Scourge let the deputy go and walked over to you. You gulped as he pinned you to the wall he mewed quietly in your ear "I like you" he looks at you. You blushed and whispered back "I like you to..." He did friendly smile and brushed his fur against you in a loving way. You smiled doing the same a blush crept across his face and you purred but you didn't know that everyone was watching.
You realised that they where watching and stumbled back watching all of the smirks on there faces and you blushed. Scourge called them to go away. You walked off to your friend hazelfur she smiled "I guess you and scourge are soon to be a couple?" She teased you. "Really depends" you blushed. She purred "looks like it he loves you so much he tells me every day" you blushed even more and then he comes out of his den. He walked over to you and sat down "what are you talking about?" He mewed quietly. "Nothi-" you got cut off "you and Y/N" hazelfur teased you hissed at her but scourge blocked you from charging at her and mewed into your ear "calm down" you nod sighing and gave her a warning look. Hazelfur purred in amusement "well, I'll leave you two" she meowed and walked away, you purred at scourge and then smiled.
It was night you crept out of your den and went into the streets you ran across the road and then a monster roared and came at you. "No!" A cat called you turned your head seeing scourge push you away and then you heard screech and then a yowl. Your eyes widened seeing scourge on the ground in a pool of blood "scourge!" You yowled running to him you grabbed the fur at the back of his neck and then pulled him to the path. You crouched over his body tears falling. "Y..Y/N?" He mewed weakly blood dripping from his mouth "I..I l.love y.you Y/N g..goodbye..." He fell limp "scourge! Scourge!" You yowled in distress your tears fell on his body. "No..."

You mewed "I love you to...." You whispered in his ear. The clan came over and sat with him.. "Goodbye scourge" you mewed in his ear.

A light shone on scourge when it died away he opened his eyes "scourge" you mewed "Y/N?" He said weakly "shh. Don't try to talk please," you meowed. You picked him up and started carrying him to the camp. Then you went into your den where you stored some poppy seeds and herbs. You set him down gently and ran over to the healing herbs and came over with a mouthfull of them. You sat down next to him using your amazing healing skills. You give him poppy seeds to ease the pain, "rest, you need to heal" you told him. Then you hear your name "Y/N?! Y/N?" The deputy called out you poked your head through the leaves and branches of your den "yeah?" You meowed "I need you to go hunting. By yourself and go into the forest" she orders you. You nod and walk out and soon walking into the forest, "wow the air here is so fre- what?" You hear barking in the distance getting louder and louder and twolegs talking you hesitated as dogs came running towards you. Then you saw your mother "Y/N?!" She mewed running over to you. "Hey," you meowed, she noticed your collar "I guess you have another owner" "no" "What?!" She mewed "That can't be possible!"

Part 5

[image]

"That cant be possible!" You mother yowled making you step back "I belong to a clan now mother. Bloodclan" you mewed and then heard a voice behind you "Y/N you have to kill that kittypet, scourges orders" you sighed unsheathing your claws. "Im sorry mother" you mumbled your pupils slitting and you leaped at her hissing "Y-Y/N!" Your mother yowled.

You dag your claws in her pelt and bit her neck tightly making blood rush down her neck then she went limp. Your mother was dead. You got off her and licked the blood off your muzzle and claws, Wow.. That felt good you thought. Your tail swayed from side to side as you stood up walking back. Hearing scourge rap to himself in his den you walked in joining with him but doing the singing part

[You:]
I am a lion and I want to be free
Do you see a lion when you look inside of me?
Outside the window just to watch you as you sleep
Cause I am a lion born from things you cannot be
How can I sleep at night, there's a war inside my head?
I found a lion hidden right beneath my bed
I will not hide myself from the tears that you have shed
Cause I am a lion and you are dead

[Scourge:]
Here's a story of everything we'll ever be
You can hide but some of us can never leave
And if you go I don't need those little things
They remind me of all our little dreams
Can you hear the words, all I can say?
We can watch the world even if they walk away
Forget about tomorrow, tomorrow is today
You were born a lion and a lion you will stay

[Chorus: You]
I am a lion and I want to be free
Do you see a lion when you look inside of me?
Outside the window just to watch you as you sleep
Cause I am a lion born from things you cannot be

[Scourge:]
Remember an army, of all those little kids
Living life like they only get a little bit
It's hard to fight when you're born in the middle and
I'd rather die, won't watch you giving in
I'm sorry daughter but your father's not the same
I can look into your eyes and I'll swear that I will change
But tomorrow is tomorrow so forgive me if I stay
You can hide beneath the covers while I hide behind the pain
After all, only so much we can say
Words can lose their meaning, once you walk away
Promise that you'll love me, watch me as I fade
I'll give you all those things that these liars never gave
The hands on the clock, and the things we cannot change
Tear it all to pieces, and take back what I made
If there's one thing I'd keep, it's you that I would save
Cause I am just a lion and a lion I will stay

[Chorus: You]
I am a lion and I want to be free
Do you see a lion when you look inside of me?
Outside the window just to watch you as you sleep
Cause I am a lion born from things you cannot be

[You and Scourge:]
Hey!
I never meant to let go
All I want and you're all I ever wanna know
Can't hide in the attic of a pretty home, of a pretty home, of a pretty home
Hey!
I never meant to let go
All I want and you're all I ever wanna know
Can't hide in the attic of a pretty home, of a pretty home, of a pretty home

Hey!

[Chorus: You]
I am a lion and I want to be free
Do you see a lion when you look inside of me?
Outside the window just to watch you as you sleep
Cause I am a lion born from things you cannot be

He looked at you smiling and walked over to you sitting next to you. He wrapped his tail around you pulling you closer "i love you Y/N"

Part 6: Nightmare

[image]

The trees swayed back and forth you ran as fast as your paws could take you. Barks from hundreds of dogs were heard in the distance "Help!" You yowled "Scourge, someone!" Suddenly you where picked up and thrown on someones back seeing scourge he ran deep into the woods then threw you down "You really believed me?" He mewed running a claw around your face smirking. Fighting back the tears you gulped nodding.

"PATHETIC Y/N! I NEVER LOVED YOU!" Scourge yowled in your face you started crying, he smirked again and slashed at your eye. You yowled in pain unable to move the barking grew louder and soon you saw the face of a dog "kill her" scourge mewed to the dog and you saw the jaws snapping at you and then you blacked out...

You woke up yowling of fright scourge was curled up asleep next to you. You looked at him shaking "scourge..?" You mew making him wake up "mh...?" He grumbles looking at you "I..I had a nightmare" You mew he pulls you closer to comfort you "I'm here don't worry" he says in your ear making you smile softly "just try to sleep Y/N" he mews tiredly. You nod and close your eyes falling asleep..

You woke up when the birds started tweeting and got up yawning. Scourge was fast asleep and you nudged him making him wake up "morning sleepyhead" you say playfully as he yawns and gets up. You went out the den and went into the open. Your ears pricked up hearing a sound and suddenly someone pounced on you making you yowl and scratch them off and pin them down. You realised it was your clanmate, Hazelfur you take your paw off her and step away "Don't scare me like that Hazelfur!" You hiss "haha! Just a little joke stop being so stubborn Y/N!" She replies.

Suddenly a twoleg drove up getting out his monster, grabbing a baseball bat and walking over. "Get in your den!" You yowl as he swings down the bat aiming at you. You quickly dodge and bite his ankle and as the two-leg is distracted you quickly hide...
